PLANS FOR PITTSBURG GAMES. Hughey Jennings Will Work up Tiger Speed for World's Series.

Now that he has won the Americal eague pennant and can afford to take chances, Hughey Jennings will begin chances, Hughey Jennings will begin some daring experimental plays that he expects to use against the Pirates. In addition to the post-season game with the Highlanders today, he has four games in which to try out the news plays, says an eastern report. The most prominent scoring play to be introduced in the world's series by Jennings is the hit and run with a runner on second instead of first. That play was worked successfully by Joe McGinnity in Newark this season, and it struck Jennings so forefbly that he has decided to adopt it.

"If a runner can be advanced two bases on a hit and run from first base," argues Jennings, "there is no reason why it should not work equally

Pittsburg, Oct. 5.—It was reported to the Pittsburg baseball club officials tonight that ticket speculators were in a measure responsible for the dearth of seats for the games of Friday and Saturday on Forbes field. It is said that sections of the grandstand have been bought in bulk by several ticket syndicates and that the tickets are on sale at prominent cafes and downtown cigar stores. The report is being investigated by the ball club authori-

Hotel accommodations are already overtaxed. The advance guard of out of town fans and newspaper men arrived tonight from the east and west, many of the prominent sporting writers of New York and Chicago being among them.

In agreeing to play an exhibition

In agreeing to play an exhibition game with the Highlanders as a tes-timonial to Sam Crane, Jennings had in view this opportunity to try out his new plays before going to Pittsburg.

Another play that he expects to develop between now and Friday is the delayed steal, with runners on first and third, as played by the Giants. With Cobb on third he should be able to get away with it several times during the scales. times during the series. Moreover, the call loan market, in-stend of relaxing as the date of the October money payments recedes, rose today higher than on Friday, and, by consequence, higher than since early in 1908. The rate touched six per consequence, higher than since early in 1908. The rate touched six per cent. There were points of strength still here and there, but the prevailing tone of stocks was depressed and uncertain. The constant succession of new high records in United States Steel has encouraged a presumption that the market protection for the price was invincible and that uninter-rupted progress to par or above was an assured fact. It appears, however, that a growing preportion of the speculative buying in the recent past has been accompanied by the precaution of a stop-loss seiling order, placed at a given point under the purchase price. An element amongst the professional speculators learned of the existence of these orders in large volume at about 92 and again at 91. By offering the price down to these levels they saw opportunity for profit by buying into cover their short sales while the stop-loss seiling orders were being executed. 28000 Ers
